SEO FOR WEBSITE PAGES

The screenshot shows a web application window titled "SEO". It has two tabs: "Search" and "Table". The "Table" tab is active, displaying "Search Results : Website Seo". There is a "Filter" input field and "Export CSV Excel" buttons. A table lists website pages with columns for No., Filename, Title, Description, Keywords, Hidden, and an "Add" column with icons for adding, editing, and deleting. The first row is for "index" and the second for "homepage".

No.	Filename ↑	Title	Description	Keywords	Hidden	Add
1.	index	TITLE	DESCRIPTION	KEYWORDS	HIDDEN
		TITLE	DESCRIPTION	KEYWORDS	HIDDEN
	homepage	DESCRIPTION	KEYWORDS	HIDDEN

Stars do it. Sports do it. Judges in the highest courts do it. Let's do it: that yoga thing. A path to enlightenment that winds back 5,000 years in its native India, yoga has suddenly become so hot, so cool, so very this minute. It's the exercise cum meditation for the new millennium, one that doesn't so much pump you up as bliss you out. Yoga now straddles the continent — from Hollywood, where $20 million-a-picture actors queue for a session with their guru du jour, to Washington, where, in the gym of the Supreme Court, Justice Sandra Day O'Connor and 15 others faithfully take their class each Tuesday morning.
